EXTREME HEAT POLICY

1. Purpose & Scope

This policy applies to all scheduled Axedale Golf Club competitions and is designed to reduce the risk of heat-related injuries to Members and guests participating at the Axedale Golf Club. The extreme Heat Policy has been introduced to provide guidance to members and guests in relation to playing conditions which might impact on the health and well-being of players on the golf course, on hot, high temperature and humid days and to prevent confusion about when a competition will run on days of extreme heat

2. Responsibilities

Golfers are advised to take appropriate action to prevent heat stress including wearing a wide-brimmed hat and carrying sufficient water to maintain hydration. All golfers should consider their own health conditions before participating in Club events. The Match Committee is responsible for checking the local weather conditions, cancelling events, and posting weather notices. All information regarding the forecast temperature is to be checked on the Bureau of Metrology site www.bom.gov.au/vic/forecasts the evening prior to play.

3. Policy

If the temperature is expected to be 38 degrees and over, then competition will be morning only under a Controlled Start.

When the Heat Policy is invoked, all Members will receive an email at approximately 5.00pm the day before scheduled competition, e.g. Tuesday before Wednesday for Women, Wednesday before Thursday for Men and Friday before Saturday for the competitions on Saturday.

A Brief History of the Axedale Golf Club

Although there are some references of golf being played in the Axedale district as early as the 1890's, golf was first played on the site of the current course, The Axedale Racecourse and Recreational Reserve, in 1937 when 8 founding members formed the Axedale Golf Club. The inaugural President, Mr. J. Doak, proclaimed the 22 men and 14 lady members would be required each Saturday from 24th April 1937 for working bees "until the course is in (playing) order". The membership fee for that first year was 3 shillings. The course consisted of 9 sand scrape holes surrounded by low wire fences to protect the sands from grazing stock (A pastoral lease was current on the reserve at this time – any cutting of grass was prohibited). The fledgling club also had to contend with the frequent flooding of the course by the adjacent Campaspe River. Despite these setbacks the Axedale Golf Club competed each weekend during the winter season from 1937 until 1956. However, by 1955 membership had fallen to 10 members and 5 associates. In May of 1956, following another flood in which the scrapes were again ruined and the fairways strewn with debris, the club and the course were abandoned. The club was reformed in 1973 by a band of enthusiastic locals who met in the Axedale Public Hall. A new layout of 9 scrapes was created on the same site as the original course, although two alternative sites were also considered. In the years since, the layout has undergone many changes and additions. The first clubhouse was a galvanised iron shed alongside the present 7th fairway, originally used as a pavilion for the racetrack. In 1980, when a new club house was built several hundred metres away, the course was again altered to make the first hole a more convenient starting point. A further 5 holes were subsequently constructed across the Eppalock Road during the early 1980's and by 1989 the club had a complete automated watering system in place, allowing members to play all year round. The course was converted from sand to grass greens over a two year period along the design plans of Kevin Hartley, with the earthworks being done by Axedale member Butch Dunlop, and numerous working bees when members laid drainage, spread and levelled topsoil, and seeded the new greens. VGA Vice-President and local Bendigo identity George Body officially opened the 18 greens on the 21st of April 1996. The minister for Sport, The Honourable Tom Reynolds MLA, officially opened extensions to the clubhouse in 1998. In 2005, negotiations were completed with the Coliban Water Authority for recycled water to be utilised by the Axedale Golf Club, involving a major upgrade of the clubs watering system. The negotiations were quite long and complex being completed by an energetic and enthusiastic group of members led very capably by club member Graeme Rooke. Today the Axedale Golf Club boasts a membership of over 400 players and is one of the best courses in the Bendigo District.

AXEDALE GOLF CLUB

ETIQUETTE

Members are asked to familiarise themselves with the Rules of Golf, and to pay particular attention to the following paragraphs. Observance will add to the pleasure of all members on the course. There is an entire section at the start of the rules book on etiquette for more details. Sometimes these injunctions are not honoured as they should be owing to perhaps lack of thought, or to intense concentration by the player upon their own game, to the exclusion of the welfare and enjoyment of others.

1. All persons must wear correct footwear on the course.
2. When a playing partner is about to play, it is courteous to stand still. No-one should stand close to, or directly behind the ball or hole, nor should you move or talk when a player is making a stroke.
3. Who has the honour? At the start of a round, it will be the person with the lowest handicap. Thereafter, our Club adopts the principles and practice of 'ready golf' as described in the Rules of Golf 2023.
4. There should be no play until the player / group in front is out of range. This will vary from player to player and is often difficult to judge on a strange course. Err on the side of caution.
5. Upon the completion of a hole, players should immediately leave the green.
6. Any turf cut or displaced should be immediately replaced and pressed down.
7. Players should smooth out all marks in the bunkers before leaving same.
8. Players should at all times play without undue delays. Slower matches always call faster matches though.
9. Make sure the area around you is clear of people before you take a practice swing – and DO NOT "aim" practice swings at your playing partners.

GOLF PROTOCOL

The Game

Golf is unique for 2 main reasons:

1. Golf is a game of honour and honesty – your integrity is at stake every time you play. You are your own referee, umpire and judge.
2. Every "arena" is different and unique in its own way. Whether you are playing football, cricket, tennis, etc. the playing field is basically the same. Consequently rules of golf are many, but they are designed to be relevant to all courses. It is your responsibility to know the rules and to apply them in all circumstances. Excusing a breach of a rule by claiming "we're not playing for sheep stations" is unacceptable.

Things expected of you

- * Golf is a very social game. Meeting new people on a “level playing field” is one of its great attractions. Anti-social behaviour is rare and should not be tolerated.
- * Correct attire – There is a dress code printed in the program book and on the board outside the club house.
- * If you have played a competition round, you are encouraged to stay for the presentation of trophies. Whilst this is sometimes not possible, the practice of consistently immediately leaving is considered antisocial and contrary to expected protocol.

COURSE MAINTENANCE

Take pride in the course.

The maintenance and upkeep of our course is not just the responsibility of our ground staff. It's the responsibility of everyone who plays at Axedale to help keep the course in top condition. This means you should always endeavour to leave the course in better condition than you find it. How can you achieve this?

1. Always carry a sand bucket. You should aim to refill your bucket every 2nd or 3rd hole.
2. Repair your divots on all areas of the course, including the tees. Replace your divots and cover with sand. Don't just fill in your divot hole with sand and leave your divots lying on the fairway.
3. Fill in all unrepaired divots and other holes with sand.
4. Always carry a pug reparer in your pocket and repair all pitch marks you find on the green, not just your own.
5. Follow the signs directing you to walk around the fringe of the green – not across them.
6. Smooth over foot marks, etc. and other roughed-up areas in the bunkers. Leave the bunker rake in the bunker or in the holder where provided.
7. Try not to step on the area of the green around the hole. This is not only common etiquette, but common sense.
8. Don't remove stakes defining specific course features e.g. penalty areas, GUR, etc.

Pace of Play

Probably the most common fault with “many” players is that they tend to take too long between shots and to hit the ball – There is no proven correlation between the quality of the shot and the amount of time the player stands over the ball. Always remember your place in the field is behind the group in front, NOT in front of the group behind! The pace you play should be independent of the number of hits per hole. No one wants or expects you to run around the course, but a few simple tips will help you keep up.

1. Move smartly between shots. There is nothing to say you can't be in front of your playing partners provided you are aware when they're about to play, so you stand still and avoid being hit.
2. As you approach your ball you should be thinking about how you are going to play your next shot – the line of your shot – the club you'll use – etc. Don't wait until it's your turn before preparing your shot. Be ready to “pull the trigger” as soon as your playing partner has hit.
3. Leave the green immediately you have finished the hole. Don't mark your cards until you reach the next tee. If you have the “honour”, make your way smartly to the tee and if it's safe, tee off without delay – then you can mark your card whilst your playing partners tee off.
4. If you believe your ball may be lost or out of bounds, play a provisional ball.
5. If you or a member of your group has lost a ball, call through the following group. There is a 3 minute time limit only to look for a lost ball.
6. Place your buggy or golf cart between the green and the next tee. Do not leave it at the front of the green while you play out the hole. Keep your buggy close by during the play of each hole.

Course Care – Replace your divots when possible and use sand to repair divot holes on the course. Assist to keep our greens in top condition by repairing all pug marks. Members and their guests must give way to ground staff working on the course at all times.

The Spirit of the Game – Golf is unique in that, unlike most other sports, a referee or umpire doesn't usually supervise a game. It relies on the integrity of the individual to abide by the rules. This assumes the player KNOWS the rules. It is your responsibility to know the rules. Rule books are available free of charge from your club captain.

Course Care – A maximum of 2 balls only are allowed when practising on the course. Carry (and use) a sand bucket. Repair all divots and pug marks.

Slow Play – All players must be aware of their responsibility to avoid slow play. If it's your "honour" play immediately and mark your score card after you've hit your tee shot.

Local Rule – To prevent damage to young trees on our course such trees are defined with a stake. If a staked tree interferes with your stance or area of your intended swing, the ball must be lifted without penalty and dropped not nearer the hole so the interference is avoided. This local rule change eliminates misinterpretation about planted versus non-planted trees and the old "under two club length in height" rule. If it's staked – you must drop away. If it's not – play the ball as it lies.

World Handicap System (WHS)

The WHS took effect from 30 January 2020.

Whilst similar to the prior system, important changes were introduced.

In essence:

- ⇒ It will be harder to 'go out'
- ⇒ Your handicap will fall faster whenever you have an exceptionally good round

'Going out'

Your handicap is still not able to increase by more than five strokes in a year (Hard Cap). Once your handicap increases by three shots during the year, subsequent poor rounds will only have half the impact they used to (Soft Cap). In other words, you will take longer to go out.

Exceptional scores

If you shoot 7-under your 'Played To' then an additional full stroke will be deducted from your handicap.

If you shoot 10-under, a full two additional shots will be deducted.

Full details
